INDEX

Abbott, Edith, cited, 39, 40, 144
Abbott, Grace, cited, 141
Adams, John, 6, 7
Addams, Jane, 142
ADJUSTING IMMIGRATION TO MANPOWER REQUIREMENTS, Collis Stocking, 111–116
ADJUSTMENT OF REFUGEES TO AMERICAN LIFE, Maurice R. Davie and Samuel Koenig, 159–165
ADMINISTERING OUR IMMIGRATION LAWS, Watson B. Miller, 178–184
AGENCIES ORGANIZED BY NATIONALITY GROUPS IN THE UNITED STATES, Yaroslav J. Chyz and Read Lewis, 148–158
Aldrich, Thomas Bailey, 14
Alexander, Magnus W., quoted, 112
Aliens in United States
  age structure of, 133
  status of, 131–133
AMERICA'S FUTURE MANPOWER NEEDS, Ewan Clague, 102–110
AMERICA'S MIGRATION TREATIES DURING WORLD WAR II, Wilbert E. Moore, 31–38
Arthur, Chester A., 12
Arthur, William B., cited, 164
Assimilation of foreign born a slow process, 129–130
  adjustment of displaced persons, 164–165 adjustment of refugees, 160–163
  aided by liberal national attitude, 131 Americanization as a goal, 143
  as affected by nationality organizations and institutions, 157–158 ceremonies of welcome for new citizens, 138
  changing concept of, 2–3, 128–130, 143, 144 education for citizenship, 136–138
  efforts toward, during World War I, 143
  in France, Poles and Italians compared, 27–28 melting-pot theory, 142 disappeared in World War I, 143 inadequate, 2–3
    versus cultural pluralism, 128–130 resistance to
    by French Canadians and Spanish speaking, 75, 76
    by Irish and Germans, 7–8
    by Mexican born, 76
    by Welsh and Norwegians, 129
  services of government agencies, 133–134, 135–138
Autur, Mary, cited, 143

Bartholdi, Auguste, 5
Bigelow, John, cited, 111
Birth rates
  high among displaced persons, 172–173
  in Europe, 1841–1940, 47–48
  in Italy since 1931, 89
  in United States
    decline of, 63–64
    differentials in, 67–68
    since 1940, 65–66
  in western Europe
    factors favoring decline in, 50, 51 factors favoring high rates, 50
    for 1947 and 1948 compared, 51
  See also Natural increase
Bloch, Louis, cited, 96
Blumenthal, Leon J., 148
Branse, Herman I., cited, 132
BREMER, EDITH TERRY, Development of Private Social Work with the Foreign Born, 139–147
Broadbent, Elizabeth, cited, 76
Brown, Francis J., editor, 129, 148
Buell, Raymond Leslie, cited, 41
Burns, Arthur F., cited, 95, 96
Business cycles
  as affected by immigration, 95–96

Caliger, Elizabeth, 148
Carey, Jane Perry Clark, cited, 166
Carr-Saunders, A. M., cited, 45
CARTER, HUGH, Perspective, 1–4
Carter, Hugh, cited, 164
Churches of foreign-born population, 149–153
CHYZ, YAROSLAV J., and READ LEWIS, Agencies Organized by Nationality Groups in the United States, 148–158 Citizenship of foreign born
  ceremonies of welcome for new citizens, 138
  education for, 136–138
CLAGUE, EWAN, America's Future Manpower Needs, 102–110
Clague, Ewan, cited, 115
Cleveland, Grover, 12, 13, 190
Coates, John D., cited, 35
Coats, R. H., cited, 72
Cohen, Richard, 148
Contract labor
  conclusions regarding, 29–30, 37–38
  in United States
    encouraged during Civil War, 12
    made illegal in 1885, 189
    Mexican agricultural workers, 31–34
    Mexican railroad workers, 34–35
    utilized during World War II, 31–38, 113–114
    West Indian and other agricultural workers, 34

West Indian and other industrial workers, 36–37 provisions governing Mexican workers in U. S., 32, 35
workers in France, 25–26, 28–29
recruitment of
by France, 24, 26–27, 28–29
for colonial America, 5–6
in Mexico by U. S., 33–34
Crabtree, Arthur P., cited, 137
CULTURAL PLURALISM, Clyde V. Kiser, 117–130
Culture conflict between native and foreign elements, 7–9, 189, 191
See also Assimilation of foreign born

DAVIE, MAURICE R., and SAMUEL KOENIG, Adjustment of Refugees to American Life, 159–165
Davie, Maurice R., cited, 144, 160
DAVIS, KINGSLEY, and CLARENCE SENIOR, Immigration from the Western Hemisphere, 70–81
Davis, Kingsley, cited, 79
Death rates cannot continue to decline, 64
low among displaced persons, 172–173
low in western Europe in 1947, 49–50 reduction of, in Europe, 47
See also Natural increase
De Bow, James D. B., quoted, 188
DEMOGRAPHIC REVOLUTION IN THE UNITED STATES, THE, Warren S. Thompson, 62–69
DEMOGRAPHIC TRENDS IN EUROPE, Dudley Kirk, 45–55
Depew, Chauncey, 10
Deportation
comparative unlikelihood of, 133
necessity for, increased by Quota Act, 145 procedure, 180–181
relief from, 181–182
DEVELOPMENT OF PRIVATE SOCIAL WORK WITH THE FOREIGN BORN, Edith Terry Bremer, 139–147
Dicey, A. V., 190
Displaced persons admitted to United States adjustment of, 164–165
characteristics of, 163
number of, Dec. 1945 to July 1948, 163, 176 occupational background of, 164
sources of, 163
sponsorship of, 164
age and sex distribution of, 172–173
an unsolved problem, 177
as an immigration question, 1, 3–4, 191
classification of, 172
defined, 169
occupational distribution of, 173–174
repatriation of compulsory under Soviet Union, 170 not compulsory under International Refugee Organization, 170–171 number repatriated, by nationality and agency of repatriation, 171 resettlement of, 174–176
resulting from World War II, 168–169
See also Refugees
Displaced Persons Act of 1948
as directing foreign relief activities, 155 number permitted to enter under, 19, 165, 176 preferences under, 116, 176 rules of admissibility under, 163, 176 weaknesses of, 165, 176
DISPLACED PERSONS IN THE MODERN WORLD, Eugene M. Kulischer, 166–177
Drachsler, Julius, cited, 113, 143
Drucker, A. P. R., 148
Durand, John D., cited, 102

Eckerson, Helen F., cited, 163
ECKLER, A. ROSS, and JACK ZLOTNICK, Immigration and the Labor Force, 92–101
Eckler, A. Ross, cited, 31
Education of foreign born classes in English, 140–141
efforts toward, during World War I, 143
for citizenship, 136–138
Emigration
European
as related to economic development, 53–55
rise and decline of, since 1820, 45–46
from Italy
as affecting Italian economy, 89–91
desired by Italy, 60, 89
from United States after World War I, 15 opposed by Germany in nineteenth century, 40
Great Britain and Ireland in nineteenth century, 39–40
Italy before World War II, 28, 43
Japan in nineteenth century, 41
Soviet Union, 43
would not help Germany, 60
Employment outlook in United States, 106–107, 115–116
EUROPEAN GOVERNMENTAL ACTION REGARDING POPULATION, Frank Lorimer, 56–61
EUROPEAN MIGRATIONS: REGULATIONS AND TREATIES, Alfred Sauvy, 22–30

FAIRCHILD, HENRY PRATT, Public Opinion on Immigration, 185–192
Fairchild, Henry Pratt, cited, 118, 129
Family allowance systems in various countries, 56–58
Ford, Paul L., editor, 111

Foreign born, in United States
Canadian born, 75–76
from West Indies, 34, 79–80
from Western Hemisphere, by region of origin, 74
Mexican born, 31–35, 76–77
Negroes, 80
Puerto Rican born, 77–79
See also Aliens in U. S.; Assimilation of foreign born; Citizenship; Immigrants to U. S.
Foreign-language press, see Press, the foreign Franco, Francisco, 167
Franklin, Benjamin, 111
Franks, Charles, quoted, 40
Fulton, James G., chairman, 166

Gamio, Manuel, cited, 70
Garibaldi, Giuseppe, 5
Gazzera, George, translator, 22
Gille, Halvar, cited, 58
Glass, David V., cited, 43
Gluck, Aileen Solomon, 148
Goldsen, Rose Kohn, cited, 79
Goodrich, Carter, cited, 43
Government agencies for regulation of immigration, 178
Immigration and Naturalization Service, duties of, 180 GOVERNMENT AGENCIES WORKING WITH THE FOREIGN BORN, Ruth Z. Murphy, 131–138
Government programs regarding population, see Population policies in Europe
Grant, Madison, 14
Grant, Ulysses S., 12
Greeley, Horace, 9
Griffith, Beatrice, cited, 76

Haight, J. Bradley, 35
Hansen, Alvin, 92
Hansen, Marcus Lee, cited, 186
Hazard, Henry B., 136; cited, 137
Health in western Europe, now best in its history, 49–50
Hill, Joseph E., cited, 97
Hitler, Adolf, 83, 167, 174
Hitt, Homer L., cited, 76
Hoover, Herbert, 172
Hughes, Charles Evans, 42
Humphrey, Norman D., cited, 76
HUTCHINSON, EDWARD P., Immigration Policy Since World War I, 15–21

Illegal entrants into United States, 77, 114, 184
increased by Quota Act, 145
Immigrants to United States characteristics of Irish and German, 7–8 colonial and early national restrictions on, 6–7, 186 contribution of authors, 143
contribution of scientific and technical personnel, 115
from Western Hemisphere, by region of origin, 73
hardships of, 6, 7, 40–41, 144–145
number admitted in fiscal year 1948, 183 number of, from 1830 to Civil War, 7 occupational adjustment of, 107–110
occupational distribution of, 96–101, 109
recruitment of, 5–6
during Civil War, 12
during World War II in Mexico, etc., 31–37
undesired classes of, 15, 41, 178, 189
war brides, fiancées, and children, 144, 183–184
See also Aliens in U. S.; Displaced persons; Foreign born in U. S.; Refugees Immigration and population growth, 92
defined, 185
studies of, 139, 144
IMMIGRATION AND THE LABOR FORCE, A. Ross Eckler and Jack Zlotnick, 92–101
IMMIGRATION FROM THE WESTERN HEMISPHERE, Kingsley Davis and Clarence Senior, 70–81 Immigration policy, European changes caused by World War I and depressions, 22
liberal until World War I, 22
IMMIGRATION POLICY PRIOR TO WORLD WAR I, Carl Wittke, 5–14
IMMIGRATION POLICY SINCE WORLD WAR I, Edward P. Hutchinson, 15–21
Immigration policy, U. S. international implications of, 3–4, 39–44
liberal until World War I, 5, 111
need for revision of, 115–116 public interest in, 1 questions for future, 20–21, 46
safeguards native workers, 114–115 selection and restriction, 16–19
suggested study regarding, after World War I, 112–113
See also Public opinion; Regulation of immigration Immigration to United States and the business cycle, 95–96
as affected by industrialization, 42
as affecting labor supply, 94
from Western Hemisphere Canadian, 74–76
characteristics of, 72–74
Mexican, 76–77
Puerto Rican, 77–79
volume of, 70–72
West Indian, 79–80
rise and decline of, since 1820, 45–46
sex and age structure of, 93–94

sources of, 3, 5
change in, 10, 120, 189
effort to control, 3, 17–18
volume of
after World War I, 15–16
from 1830 to Civil War, 7
from Western Hemisphere, 70–72
since 1820, 45, 92
Indians (U. S.), number and proportion of in population, 120–121 Industrialization
as affecting international migration, 42
Infant mortality in Italy, 89
INTERNATIONAL IMPLICATIONS OF AMERICAN IMMIGRATION POLICY, Paul Wiers, 39–44
International organizations concerned with migration, 43–44
International Refugee Organization described, 171–172

Jefferson, Thomas, 7; cited, 111
Jennison, Nancy, 148
Jerome, Harry, 95
Jewish congregations divisions and numerical strength of, 152 Jews
constitute nonrepatriable refugees, 170
Nazi persecution of, 167
resettlement of displaced Jews in Palestine, 175–176
Jones, Robert C., cited, 32, 33, 35, 76

Kaczmarek, Czeslaw, cited, 22
Kalijarvi, Thorsten V., cited, 75
Kelly, William R., cited, 137
Kibbe, Pauline R., cited, 76
KIRK, DUDLEY, Demographic Trends in Europe, 45–55
Kirk, Dudley, cited, 50
KISER, CLYDE V., Cultural Pluralism, 117–130
Kiser, Clyde V., cited, 46
KOENIG, SAMUEL, see Davie, Maurice R., jt. author
Krichefsky, Gertrude D., cited, 163
Kuczynski, Robert R., cited, 47
KULISCHER, EUGENE M., Displaced Persons in the Modern World, 166–177
Kulischer, Eugene M., cited, 166

Labor
attitude of, toward immigrants, 8, 13–14
See also Contract labor
Labor force growth of, 102–103
projection of, to 1970, 103–106
structure of, 103
Labor standards
safeguarded by Immigration and Naturalization Service, 114–115 threatened by immigrants, 8, 13–14, 39, 100, 188–189 Labor supply
in United States
always augmented by immigrants, 31, 39
as affected by immigration, 94
not dependent on immigration, 113 shortage of workers
during and since World War II, 1–2
in Europe, 51–53
in Germany, 87
related to population trends, 2, 51–53
See also Contract labor
Landis, Harry R., cited, 37
Landy, Eleanor, 148
Languages, see Mother tongue
Lazarus, Emma, 5
Legislation re immigration
Federal
Alien Registration Act of 1940, 19
Displaced Persons Act of 1948, 19, 116
Immigration Act of 1917, 15
Quota Acts of 1921 and 1924, 16–17, 143
to World War I, 12–13 left mostly to states until 1876, 11
to protect steerage passengers, 11, 12
See also Regulation of immigration
Legislation re naturalization, 135
LEWIS, READ, see Chyz, Yaroslav J., jt. author
Lincoln, Abraham, 12, 111
Lind, Andrew W., cited, 78
Longmore, T. Wilson, cited, 76
Lorimer, Frank, cited, 48, 54
LORIMER, FRANK, European Governmental Action Regarding Population, 56–61

McDonald, Mary, 142
McKane, John, cited, 40
McKinley, William, 13
McLean, M. C., cited, 72
Malthus, Thomas Robert, 92
Marriage: intermarriage among foreign-white stock in U. S., 126–128
Marshall, Douglas G., cited, 129
Mason, A. B., cited, 188
Mauco, G., cited, 22
Mayhew, Jonathan, 186
Migration
as related to labor supply, 61
implications of, for Germany and Italy 89–91 international organizations concerned with, 43–44 into Germany, resulting from World War II, 88 nineteenth-century freedom of, 166 potential, from Germany, 87–88
world-wide, as a new field of social service, 146–147

See also Contract labor; Emigration; Immigration
Mikhailovich, Draga, 173
Miller, Herbert Adolphus, cited, 144
MILLER, WATSON B., Administering Our Immigration Laws, 178–184
Miller, Watson B., 138; cited, 132
Mills, C. Wright, cited, 79 Minorities in France
in 1911, by nationality, 24
Italians
assimilable, 28 number of, 24, 28–29
Poles
number of, 24, 27
unassimilable, 27–28
Mitchell, Wesley C., cited, 95, 96
MOORE, WILBERT E., America's Migration Treaties During World War II, 31–38
Moore, Wilbert E., 114; cited, 36
Morey, Victor P., cited, 136, 137
Mother tongue of white population of U. S., 75, 76, 123–125
MURPHY, RUTH Z., Government Agencies Working with the Foreign Born, 131–138
Murphy, Ruth Z., cited, 133
Mussolini, Benito, 58, 82, 174
Myrdal, Alva, cited, 58

Nansen, Fridtjof, 167
Nationality organizations and institutions in U. S.
American character of, 148–149, 153
as affecting assimilation, 157–158 churches and other religious bodies, 149–153 cultural and occupational, 154
foreign-language press and radio, 155–157
fraternal, 153–154
political, 154–155
welfare, 155
Natural increase
in Europe, 48–51
in Italy, 89
in United States
before 1860, 62–63
high among Mexican born, 76
since 1860, 65
See also Birth rates; Death rates Naturalization
legal basis of, 135
length of residence required for, 131, 145
of Chinese, 41
recent increased desire for, 134–135
services of Immigration and Naturalization Service, 135–138
See also Citizenship Negroes in United States
foreign born, 80
proportion of, in population, 120
Nelson, Lowry, cited, 75, 76
Notestein, Frank W., cited, 45, 46, 82, 90

Oblath, Attilio, cited, 88
Organized migrations, see Contract labor Oriental immigration discrimination against, 13, 18, 41–42
liberalization toward, 19
public attitudes toward, 191–192
Orlow, Abram, cited, 134

Park, Robert Ezra, cited, 144, 148
Payne, E. George, cited, 129
Pearl, Raymond, 92
Penn, William, 6
PERSPECTIVE, Hugh Carter, 1–4
Population of Germany
age and sex structure of, 85–87
as affected by World War II, 83
future of, 88
postwar, 84
Population of Italy
as affected by World War II, 83, 88–89
Population policies in Europe, 56–61
German and Italian before World War II, 82–83 Population structure of United States age composition, 63, 66
by country of origin, 119, 122–123
by mother tongue, 75, 76, 123–125
ethnic composition, 117–126
intermarriage among foreign-white stock, 126–128 proportion of foreign born, 68
sex ratio, 68
Population trends
in Europe, 2, 46–49
disrupted by World War II, 49
research regarding, 59–60
in United States, 2, 62–68
forecast, 105
implications of, 69
POSTWAR EMIGRATION FROM GERMANY AND ITALY, Irene B. Taeuber, 82–91
Press, the foreign, 155–157
PUBLIC OPINION ON IMMIGRATION, Henry Pratt Fairchild, 185–192
Public opinion re immigration
American colonists intolerant, 185–186 antiforeign sentiment and movements, 8–11, 13–14, 39, 111–112, 144, 188–190
as basis of immigration policy, 4 fears of foreign political ideologies, 20, 191 liberal in early nineteenth century, 187–188 rise and strength of restrictionist sentiment, 15–16, 18, 112–113, 189–190 wartime fears of foreign elements, 15, 18–19, 112, 190
Pulitzer, Joseph, 5

Quotas and quota system
a departure in policy, 16
allocation of quotas, 17–18
as causing hardships, 143–144, 145
background of, 42, 190
European reaction to, 42–43
exemptions from quota limits, 17, 179 formulas for computing quotas, 16, 17
minimum and maximum, 178, 190 preferences within quotas, 179 purpose of, 190
seek to control sources of immigration, 3, 17–18

Radio, foreign-language, 157
Reed, James A., 42
Refugees
adjustment of, to American life economic, 161–162
hindrances and aids to, 160–161
social, 162–163
admitted outside of quotas, 191
an asset to the United States, 163 compared with other immigrants, 160
in interwar period, 166–167
number and nationalities of, 159–160 proportion of Jews and Catholics among, 160 receiving countries for, 159–160
undistinguished from other migrants before World War I, 166 unique features of refugee movement, 159
See also Displaced persons Regulation of immigration administration of immigration laws administrative relief, 181–183
agencies charged with, 178
deportation, 180–182
examination at point of entry, 179–180 responsibilities of transportation lines, 179, 180 securing a visa, 178–179
special current problems, 183–184
admission for temporary sojourn, 178–179
by state laws, 11
by the Federalists, 6–7
Federal, 12–13, 41, 120, 178–184
in colonial Pennsylvania, 6
in Europe, regulatory forms, 22–23 literacy test, 12–13
passed over Presidential veto, 13, 15, 190
See also Legislation re immigration; Oriental immigration; Quotas and quota system
Rihbany, Abraham M., cited, 143
Roberts, Peter, 140
Roosevelt, Franklin D., 167
Roosevelt, Theodore, 41, 135
Roucek, Joseph S., editor, 129, 148
Russell, William F., 133

Sadler, George E., cited, 36
Samuels, Gertrude, cited, 164
Sauermann, Heinz, quoted, 60
SAUVY, ALFRED, European Migrations: Regulations and Treaties, 22–30
Sauvy, Alfred, cited, 32
Schibsby, Marian, cited, 132
Schoenle, quoted, 40
SENIOR, CLARENCE, see Davis, Kingsley, jt. author
Senior, Clarence, cited, 78, 79
Simpson, John Hope, cited, 166
Smith, A. Delafield, cited, 132
Smith, T. Lynn, 124; quoted, 125
Social security
includes aliens in benefits, 132–133
See also Family allowance systems
Social work with foreign born at the ports, 139–140
by International Institutes, 141–142, 146
classes in English, 140–141
immigrant homes, 139
Immigration and Naturalization Service cooperates with, 183 necessitated by Quota Act, 143–144, 145 stimulated by World War I, 143 stimulated by World War II, 146
visiting and various, 141–142
Stanley, Edward (Lord), 40
Steiner, Edward, cited, 143
Stern, Gertrude, cited, 143
STOCKING, COLLIS, Adjusting Immigration to Manpower Requirements, 111–116
Stoddard, Lothrop, 14
Sutherland, Stella H., cited, 118

TAEUBER, IRENE B., Postwar Emigration from Germany and Italy, 82–91
Taft, William Howard, 12, 13, 190
THOMPSON, WARREN S., The Demographic Revolution in the United States, 62–69
Thompson, Warren S., cited, 50, 117, 121
Torkillus, Reorus, 149
Treaties covering labor migrations between France and Italy, 29
Poland, 25–27
various countries, 24–25
between United States and Mexico, 32, 34–35
West Indies, Newfoundland, and Canada, 34
conclusions regarding, 29–30, 37–38
various, 32
Truesdell, Leon E., cited, 75
Truman, Harry S., 163, 176
Tuck, Ruth D., cited, 76
Tuck, William, 172

Wakefield, Gibbon, cited, 40
Walker, Francis A., 92
Wappaeus, G. E., cited, 40
Ware, Caroline F., cited, 42
Warren, George L., cited, 166
Wehrwein, George S., quoted, 129
Whelpton, P. K., cited, 46, 67, 121
WIERS, PAUL, International Implications of American Immigration Policy, 39–44
Willcox, Walter F., cited, 92
Wilson, Woodrow, 12, 13, 190
WITTKE, CARL, Immigration Policy Prior to World War I, 5–14
Wittke, Carl, cited, 118
Woods, Robert, 142

Zangwill, Israel, cited, 128
ZLOTNICK, JACK, see Eckler, A. Ross, jt. author Zlotnick, Jack, cited, 31